

History

Naughton Energy was formed in 1976 as a coal trading firm with its initial market efforts concentrated on the Northeast. In the early 1980's the company entered into petroleum sales. During the 1980's coal and petroleum markets were expanded, and the company initiated sales of natural gas and specialized lubricants. Naughton Energy is presently supplying coal, petroleum, natural gas, and lubricants to customers throughout the continental United States and the Pacific Rim.

The company's customer base includes federal, state and local government agencies, utilities, and commercial and industrial accounts - including a number of Fortune 500 companies.

Customers are provided competitively priced, quality products backed by professional, efficient and responsive service.

The company has a sound credit rating which allows the purchasing of products from a variety of refiners, and provides the ability to securely finance its contract obligations. A transportation network composed of truck, rail, barge and pipeline movements provide Naughton with access to all regions of the country. Naughton Energy is preparing to offer Power Marketing in the future.
